

Local health & wellbeing in a changing climate – Building resilience for people, services and communities

Tuesday 26 February 2013
MADE, 7 Newhall Square, Birmingham, B3 1RY

Aims

- To demonstrate the links between climate change, health and wellbeing, and the importance of adaptation
- To explain how to embed the principles of adaptation into Joint Strategic Needs Assessments and Joint Health and Wellbeing Strategies
- To provide tools and guidance to develop adaptation actions for your organisation

Agenda

10am – 10.30am	Refreshments and registration
10.30am – 11am	Welcome and introduction Will Day, Pricewaterhouse Coopers (Chair) and Simon Slater, Sustainability West Midlands
11am – 11.10am	An introduction to Adaptation - National Impacts and Climate Ready Jim Hodgson, Environment Agency
11.10am – 11.20am	The regional context of adaptation Simon Slater
11.20am – 11.40am	Refreshments
11.40am – 12pm	Extreme events and Climate Change – the emerging local issues Virginia Murray, Health Protection Agency
12pm – 12.30pm	Health and Wellbeing in the context of Global Sustainability Will Day
12.30pm – 1.10pm	Networking lunch

- 1.10pm – 1.40pm Building climate change adaptation into Joint Strategic Needs Assessments
Dr. David Pencheon, NHS Sustainable Development Unit
- 1.40pm – 3pm Business Areas Climate Impact Assessment Tool (BACLIAT) interactive workshop
Simon Slater, Sustainability West Midlands
- 3pm – 3.20pm Summary and next steps